FALL SESSION OPENS WITH 7 NEW FACULTY MEMBERS

Three Instructors Return After Year's Leave Of Absence

Seven new instructors were added to the list of faculty members at Sweet Briar this fall in addition to the three who returned after leave of absence.

The English department has added two new members. Miss Johanna Stockholm of Copenhagen, Denmark, comes to Sweet Briar from Smith College, an associate professor of English. She has been in America for six years and came as the holder of a foreign scholarship at Bryn Mawr. Miss Stockholm took her M. A. degree at the University of Copenhagen and her Ph. D. at Bryn Mawr. For five years prior to her work at Smith she was research assistant at the University of Copenhagen.

Mr. J. Dexter Bennett is assistant professor of English. He studied at Oxford as a Rhodes scholar and received his B. A. there. He is a graduate of Yale University and taught there for three years before coming to Sweet Briar.

LIBRARIAN FROM McGILL

Miss Doris Lower, formerly head cataloguer in the library at McGill University, Montreal, came to Sweet Briar on August 7 to begin her duties as head librarian in the new Mary Helen Cochran library. She has the rank of an associate professor.

Miss Hilda Harpster, who received her A. B. from Sweet Briar in '27 and later her M. A. from the University of Michigan, replaces Miss Florence Adcock in the Biology department.

In the chemistry and physics department there are two new assistants, Miss Jean Rodgers, B. A., and Miss Leah Wells, B. A., both graduates of Mt. Holyoke. Miss Rodgers has been assistant in the department of chemistry at Mt. Holyoke for the past two years and took her M. A. there in June. Miss Anne Faulkner, A. B., Wellesley, in addition to her work as assistant in the Registrar's office, teaches two sections of freshman history.

28 New Members Join Glee Club

Twenty-eight girls were invited to become members of the Glee Club by Elizabeth Copeland, president of the club, at the Student Government meeting, Wednesday, October 9.

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB ADMITS 20 GIRLS

Patsy Jones as president of the International Relations Club, gave out bids to twenty new members, in Student Government meeting, last Wednesday night. The girls were chosen on a competitive basis after taking a questionnaire last week. A meeting was held on Tuesday of this week to plan the program for the coming year. Topics dealing with present day questions will be assigned to different girls for discussion at each meeting. Many faculty members have found this club of special interest and attend the meetings regularly.

The following girls were asked to join this year: Elizabeth Florence, Harriet Williams, Mary Macdonald, Florence Lodge, Gladys Wester, Mary Walker, Eleanor Marshall, Katherine Williams, Margaret New, Polly Swift, Ruth Keeler, Stuart Grosser, Helen Goodman, Marie Miller, Mary Elizabeth Cheesman, Margaret McNeely, Katherine Le Blond, Virginia Keyser, Jessie Hall, and Caroline Heath.

HELEN MATHEWS ELECTED HEAD OF SENIOR SHOW

Helen Mathews was elected to head the senior show at a recent meeting of the class. Diddy has chosen Elizabeth Embrey, Mary Macdonald, Alice Tucker, Josephine Reed, Elizabeth Stevenson, Marjorie Sturges and Harriet Williams to help her plan the program.

The show will be given on Saturday, November 23, if the hockey team does not go to Philadelphia for that weekend. In case the team does go away then, the show will be presented on Saturday, December 7.

The Venture Is Opened

Monday, October 14, marked the opening of the Venture, Miss Gay and Miss Mattie Patterson's new house, which is located just back of the Inn on the road to Boston.

Dr. Florence Hagos, assistant professor of Biology, and her mother occupy a suite of rooms on the first floor and Miss Lois Ballenger, secretary to the president, also lives on this floor.

Mr. Bernice D. Lill, Registrar, occupies a suite of rooms on the second floor and Mr. William Edwards, associate professor of political science, and Mr. J. Dexter Bennett, assistant professor of English, also live on the second floor.

The college has rented this house and by this means has found at least a temporary solution for the faculty housing problem.

DRAMATIC CLUB TAKES NEW MEMBERS TO BANQUET

Betsy Higgins Plans Novel Country Party at the Box- wood Inn

The old members of Paint and Patches gave a banquet in honor of the new members at the Boxwood Inn on Sunday night, October 13, at 7 P.M.

A country party was the theme of the banquet and was skillfully carried out by Betsy Higgins '29, who had charge of the party. The tables were decorated with red and white checked table cloths and all lamps. The new members and members of the old members straw hats, even the corages of old-fashioned flowers carried out the idea, with backs of green pigs and red chickens. A yellow duck and its family strolled out of the fireplace, and yellow chickens held the place cards.

The entertainment consisted of a specialty number of tap dancing by Martha Tillery, and dancing to the strains of Pat Taylor's orchestra from Lynchburg.

DR. RAYMOND'S PARTY MEETS FAMOUS EUROPEANS

The party sailed from New York on the S. S. Stuttgart on June 20. High lights of the trip include a tea which was given for them at Stratford-on-Avon by the Shakespeare Memorial Theater Association. Here they met John Drinkwater, the famous playwright. On July 11, Lady Astor gave a reception where this group met Lord Astor, Lord Robert Cecil, and George Bernard Shaw. Shortly before they left England a tea was given for them by the sister of Lord Lee of Fareham in Winchester.

During their stay in Rome, the party was entertained at a reception by the Italo-American Association and they were also granted a private audience with the Pope. The party met Miss Glan and Kay Norris in Paris.

The girls made up the party (include: Sarah Dodge, Elizabeth Nell, Isabel North, and Josephine Talmat of the class of '29; Margaret Mierke, '22, and Eugenie Tillman, ex-'29).

Faculty Members Attend Strike Trial

Dr. Joseph K. Folsom, professor of economics and sociology, Mr. Folsom, and Miss Gladys Dickason, instructor in the same department, made a brief trip to observe the present labor situation in North Carolina over the weekend of October 11, 12, and 13. In Charlotte they attended the murder trial of Gastonia strike leaders.

Dr. Folsom found that there seemed to be a general sympathy for the strike leaders among the organized working men of the state, although the latter do not approve of the strikers' communist political principles.

"The conservative labor unions under the American Federation of Labor seem to offer the best hope of organizing Southern labor. In any case, the South is having to face the issue of unionism as have other parts of the country," says Dr. Folsom.

At Marion, North Carolina, the strikers returned to work but then struck again because the management failed to carry out its agreement to take the workers back in the case of about 17 families. There is fear that several families will soon be ejected from their homes.

William Rom, Marion's organizer of the United Textile Workers, American Federation of Labor Unions, told Dr. Folsom that parcel post shipments of discarded clothing sent to him addressed to U. T. W., Union Headquarters, Marion, North Carolina, would be very much appreciated by needy families.

CRITICAL STUDY OF POET IS WRITTEN BY DR. CONNOR

Dr. Carl V. Connor, head of the English department, has given, as one of the first gifts for the Browning Room of the new Mary Helen Cochran Library, a copy of "Archibald Lampman," a Canadian poet of nature, which Dr. Connor recently published. The book contains a study of Lampman's life in the Canadian lake districts, at college, and later in Toronto and Ottawa. It also includes a criticism of his work and a reflection of Canadian literature of his time.

Lampman, who was "discovered" by William Dean Howells, is best known in the United States by poems he published in American magazines in the '90s. He was a contemporary of William and Charles G. D. Roberts, and was a representative figure of the period in Canadian literature.

In character, Lampman was singularly winning and the book strives to point out to later readers not only his verses but also his charm.

The jacket of the book bears a reproduction of the Lampman medallion, which is the work of Dr. Tait McKenzie of the University of Pennsylvania.

BOARD OF CONTROL FORMED FOR NEWS

Five Student Members Elected By Preferential Ballot October 11

FACULTY ADVISORS NAMED

Threefold Purpose of Board Outlined At Recent Staff Meeting

The first steps were taken towards the formation of a board of control for the Sweet Briar News, when the five student members of the board were elected by a preferential ballot on Friday, October 11.

The results of this ballot made Betsy Embrey, '30, and Alice Blake, '30, Frances Lee Kelley and Polly Swift, '31, and Stuart Grosser, '32, members of the new board.

The plans for the board of control were outlined and approved by the staff at a recent meeting. Dr. Carl V. Connor, head of the English department, Miss Ruth Stevens, manager of the Boxwood Inn, and Mrs. Vivienne Barkalow Breckenridge, '18, Alumnae Secretary, are the faculty members of this body, which is completed by Martha von Briesen, '31, editor of the News, and Emily Kimm, '30, business manager.

The purpose of the board is threefold. It shall establish and regulate the policies of the paper, shall advise on finances and plans, and shall be able to appoint or dismiss any member of the staff if necessary. The board acts only in emergencies, but at such times responsibility is automatically shifted from the editor or business manager and as an organized group it stands back of all decisions that are made in regard to the paper or its policies.

Hereafter the student members will be elected in the spring and will take office the fall after the election. At that time two sophomores will always be chosen to serve two years and one junior to serve one year.

Writers, Attention!

All students, including freshmen and new students, who are interested in writing for the SWEET BRIAR NEWS, will please come, to room 376 Mansion immediately after lunch on Friday, October 18.

Although previous experience as a high school paper is sometimes a great advantage, do not hesitate to come if you are really interested in the paper and are willing to learn how to write.

Anyone who is unable to come at the above-mentioned time will please send her name, room number, amount of previous experience, and preferences as to the type of story she would like to write, to me before Friday, October 18.

Martha von Briesen.

DON'T MISS ANYTHING!

Of late the chapel and convocation assemblies have been repeatedly urged to be quiet as they entered the chapel in order to hear the organ music that Mr. Reginald Martin, assistant professor of piano, plays before each of these gatherings. Because there are several good reasons for such a request, the News hereby supports Student Government and the faculty in the request for silence, and urges that each girl keep quiet while the organ is being played.

Mr. Martin is not only a musician of note—pianist, organist, composer—but he is, in the opinion of authorities, probably as thoroughly acquainted with musical literature as any musician we know. Not only does he give us the best music written, music that ought to be a vital part of any good education, but he gives it to us in the best possible way. For such a splendid opportunity to "feel at home" in the best music of the world we have a right to be truly grateful, for such daily contact with the best of anything, imbibed consciously or unconsciously, is a good way to raise any standard—musical or otherwise.

It is, then, for our own sakes individually, as well as out of courtesy and appreciation for Mr. Martin, that we ask you to keep silent when you enter chapel.

PLEASE CLEAN UP GRAY BULLETIN BOARD!

Each day when we pass through Gray we are impressed and antagonized by the messy appearance of the bulletin boards in Gray. We exclude from our censure the Student Government, Paint and Patches, and Y. W. boards, because their appearance is usually neat, but the main bulletin board in the hall is always disheveled looking, to say the least.

This board, as everyone knows, contains notices dealing with everything from lists of special delivery letters, parcels, and express payments due, to articles for sale and for rent, advertisements, and lost and found notices, all placed helter-skelter over the surface of the board, with the exception of the special lists which Miss Dix has posted always in the left hand corner of the board.

But who ever stops to read any of the notices except the "special" lists? Nobody ever does or ever could, if the present condition of the board prevails.

We don't know who is responsible for the state of this bulletin board, but we would suggest that students who put notices up there take them off when they have served their purpose. We also feel that all "for sale" and "for rent" notices could be put up in orderly fashion on one section of the board, all those concerning "lost and found" in another, and those with special pleas or announcements in a third part. This would not only improve the condition of the board, but it would also enable students to read what they want to read without having everything on the board right or else neglecting to read anything there, and it would certainly help to create a much better impression of the college upon visitors, who almost inevitably come into the hall in Gray.

We commend the Athletic Association for the usual neat condition of the A. A. board and although other boards in Fletcher and Academic contain old notices which should have been taken down by this time in most cases, their general appearance is tidy as compared with the main bulletin board in Gray.

The last cartsey has been made, the last led made and the sophomores, intoxicated with their new-found power, have retired to their rooms to rest up from the mental exertion of thinking up devices for keeping the little hands and minds of the freshmen occupied. One senior is relieved that it is over, for twice last Friday she was teased by a "Greetings, high and mighty worm, I am but a lowly Senior."

We were faintly—oh, very faintly—amused Sunday at the sight of a lonely and neglected date standing on the arched ringing the doorbell of Randolph. There was such a pathetic look on his face, and SUCH a decided lack of response on the part of the doorbell.

An eminent member of a local publication was seen recently searching through old issues for an editorial subject. The first editorial she found, however, was entitled "Literary Thieves." When last seen, she was kneeling silently by her bed.

Picture, if you can, four dumb freshmen, reclining luxuriously on pillows at the foot of Daisy's Monument, lazily winding the Victrola, and changing the record from "Am I Blue" to "Red Hot Potatoes." If the same freshmen will meet us in the cemetery at Ambrose some day soon, we might all hear the latest Charleston steps or a Highland Flieg.

Certain dogmatic church-goers of the underclasses are still appearing at church in hats and gloves. Wouldn't you think that eventually light would dawn?

Granted that Aints and Ases are in every way contrary to the members of Paint and Patches, what must the conversation have been at the Dramatic Club banquet Saturday night, while the rival society was holding sway at Mrs. Wills? It must have been confined largely to theological discussion, according to the law of contrast.

Perry, who have known better than to sit on the arm of that chair at the Tea House—or Mr. B. should have known better than to have let you—propriety and safety both require a little forethought.

Which reminds me of the fond mother who thought to caution her young daughter against the wiles and ways of young men professors—(It is really dangerous to read your letters aloud, you see.)

Tuck's ability to understand the freshmen has been recently rewarded by a charming floral tribute. Will the donor kindly step up and let us make her acquaintance!

FRESHMEN WEARY AFTER SOPHOMORES' DAY OF COMMAND

Freshman-Sophomore Day, with its serenades, musical comedies, style show, and impromptu stunts furnished the usual hilarity for the rest of the people on campus on Friday, October 11. Even the freshmen seemed to enjoy it all as much as everyone else, in spite of the fact that the paternalism was all at their expense.

The sophomores enjoyed their new position of being the assailants, instead of the assailed. They ordered certain freshmen to wake them up with songs at intervals between 6 and 7 a. m.

This early morning singing afforded the sophomores great pleasure while the upperclassmen, more interested in sleep, woke up with groans and sent the freshmen on their way.

Not even between classes did the green ones find rest, for there were always sophomores to be teased to and "high and mighty" seniors before whom they had to submit and confess that they were but "lowly worms."

When a freshman was asked what she would do for a junior she exclaimed, "Oh, I'd drop over and die for one." Throughout the morning and until 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the members of the class of '33 trod the road to show's, clad in the required black gym shoes and stockings. After they had registered at the barn, they presented chariot races, football games, swimming meets, acted out fairy stories and in other ways endeavored to amuse the commanding spectators.

At 3 o'clock the class turned out en masse where the sophomores awaited them on the sacred sophomore walk. Now they had on bulky gym bloomers under print dresses, wore their hair plaited into 10 braids, and carried tooth brushes and glasses of water. Here they proceeded to present a very clever take-off on Interclass Council, as well as a circus and other original acts.

The dinner bell brought a halt to this and the freshmen went home only to prepare for a fashion show which was scheduled for eight o'clock in Randolph parlor. The show included Helen

Readers Say So

Dear Editor:

William and Mary College was the first institution of learning in the United States to establish a professorship of modern languages. Charles Bellini became the first professor in 1770. He belonged to an Italian family, and his conversation and ability made other Virginians of his day feel that they had been deprived of distinct advantages because more of his countrymen had not settled in Virginia.

It had not yet been ascertained whether this Bellini was a member of the family of the Italian musicians of that name or of that Bellini family which was instrumental in the final perfection of Titian's art, or whether all belonged to the same great family.

After 1865, General Robert E. Lee was made president of Washington and Lee College and inaugurated a class in journalism there. This became the first American college to offer such a course.

Such facts as these make us feel that we have nothing of which to be ashamed in the case of such criticisms. Much as we are in the south in some magazines. For example, that article which appeared in the October issue of the Atlantic Monthly by Count Herman Keyserling, in which he freely discussed the lack of soul in the Colonial settlements, gave all credit for any soul in America to the negro. Such assertions as these usually come from foreign spirits or those who do not know us.

of Troy and Paris, Cleopatra and Antony, two types of vamps, Harold Teen, Ella Cinders, Winnie Winkle, Tilla the Teller, a prom-trotter, a bull dancer, Dan Cupid, Salome, Sweet Sixteen, and four girls represented as typical of each section of the country.

After the fashion show, a musical comedy was staged on second floor main entrance at the south in a very dramatic and original play was in progress in the chapel.

With these last contributions, Freshman-Sophomore day was ended and the Freshmen rejoiced at being able to put away the green beads and the little white aprons forever.

With the Alumnae

Margaret Danister '16, President of the Sweet Briar Alumnae Association, has been visiting Miss Glas for the past week. She left for her home in Washington Monday.

Kathryn Norris '26, is back at college visiting Miss Glas. She plans to remain until after Founders' Day. Elizabeth Lee '26 will be married to Mr. John Clark Wood on November 1. Two Sweet Briar girls, Katherine Blount '26 and Cornelia Wallis '26, are included in the large list of attendants which Miss Lee will have.

Josephine Klatts '29 is to be married to Mr. William Buffa on October 30. Her sister Jane, who is a Freshman this year, will be the maid of honor. Two other Sweet Briar girls will be in the wedding, namely, Margaret Tallaford '30 and Mary Lee Shepherd '29.

Jean Williamson '28 was married to Mr. Frank Gordon Bridges, Jr. on October 8. Jeannine Watson '28, Alice Harold '28 and Rose Lawrence '28 were all in the wedding party.

Janet Worden Bruce '29 is now Mrs. Lindley Reece Bailey and has moved to Hoboken, New Jersey, to live.

Mildred Earle Lewis '29, was married September 21 to Mr. William H. Fore and is now living in Roanoke.

Martha Maupin '29 is taking a secretarial course in Boston. She is living in an apartment with Dortha Padlock '29 and Eleanor Duff '29.

Polly McDiarmid '29 spent the summer on Cape Cod and is now in Boston.

Raue Ragland Tucker '29 spent the summer abroad.

Elizabeth Lee Valentine '29, who spent the summer in Europe, will sail for home on October 5. She will make her debut in Richmond this winter.

Gert Prior '29 is in New York this winter, taking a business course at Columbia University. At the same time she is helping Mrs. Ruth Hickaby, the assistant editor of the Sportsman Magazine. Gert was recommended for this position by Miss C. M. K. Applebee, director of the hockey camp at Mount Pocono, Pennsylvania.

Monia Stone Awarded Cup For Best Horsemanship In Show

Monia Stone '30 won the silver cup given by the Peoples National-Bank of Lynchburg for the best rider at the Amherst County Fair on Thursday, October 10. Because of the beautiful and skillful ride she gave her mount, Monia was selected as the best of the thirty-four riders in the ring. This cup was won in the two preceding years by Willie Woodward '29.

Thirty-nine riders were entered from Sweet Briar this year and both riders and horses seemed to be in excellent form in all the events.

The fair would not be itself without some unusual event. Last year several calves in the field through which the hunt teams were ridden supplied the thrills by adding an extra hazard at the jumps. This time it was an aviator and an airplane who showered the crowd with lavender socks and soap.

Class 1.—Best horse shown to halter.
1. Dunbar.—Shown by Lucy Shirley '30.
2. Peggy.—Shown by Betty McCrae '30.

3. Tarheel.—Shown by Jean Saunders '30.
4. Giesch Gypsy.—Shown by Natalie Roberts '31.

Class 2.—Hunters, performance only to count.
1. Charcoal—ridden by Huldah Williams '29.

2. T'aint—ridden by Louise Nelson '30.
3. Miss Fortune—ridden by Harriet Rogers.

4. Dunbar—ridden by Jean Van Horne '33.
Class 3.—Best horse shown under saddle.

1. Trump—ridden by Helen Persie '33.
2. Giesch Gypsy—ridden by Natalie Roberts '31.

3. Buck—ridden by Fanny O'Brian '31.
4. Martha—ridden by Belle Hancock '33.

Class 4.—Best Rider.
1. Monia Stone '30.
2. Elizabeth Stevenson '30.

3. Natalie Roberts '31.
4. Jean Van Horne '33.
5. Helen Persie '33.

Seniors, Juniors Win First Hockey Games

Monday, October 7, marked the official opening of the hockey season, with the playing of the first two games. The Seniors conquered the Sophomores with the score of 9-0, and the Juniors were victorious over the Freshmen with the close score of 5-3.

The Senior forwards showed good pass work in advancing the ball within the striking circle. On the other hand, defense play of the Sophomores was especially good. Their halves and backs seemed never to leave the Senior forwards unmarked. When it was necessary for the Sophomore backs to interchange it usually proved effective.

Miss Harriet Rogers, director of Physical Education, is pleased with the creditable manner in which the Freshman team played. All eleven players combined very well, and each one seemed at home in the game. At one time the Freshmen held the higher score, but the Juniors through consistent hard playing, finally raised their score two points above that of the Freshmen.

The line-ups:
Seniors: Pos. Sophomores
Smith, W. R.W. Magruder
Stone C.F. McRae, A.
Jones, A. P. L.F. Franke, E.
Olcott L.W. Oglesby

Class 4.—Hunt Teams. Performance only to count:

1. Giesch Gypsy—ridden by Natalie Roberts '31; Charcoal—ridden by W. C. Blackwell; Prince—ridden by Peronne Whittaker '31.

2. Miss Fortune—ridden by Harriet Rogers; Lady Buckingham—ridden by B. V. Martindale; Trump—ridden by Monia Stone '30.

3. Dunbar—ridden by Louise Nelson '30; Fox—ridden by J. M. B. Lewis; Putty—ridden by Elizabeth Stevenson '30.

Class 5.—Ride to Jericho.
1. Peronne Whittaker '31.

Cheers for '33!

During the first six weeks of school all eyes are turned upon the freshmen, and every move which they make, either as individuals or as a class, causes much comment among the upperclassmen.

This year's freshman class has already justified the interest shown in them, for they recently staged what is generally known as a "pop" meeting.

The night before the Freshman-Junior hockey game the freshmen gathered in the gym to meet their team, learn songs and cheers, and to elect two cheer leaders.

During this time the upperclassmen smiled discreetly but said nothing, for they well knew the result which was in store for the class of '33, as the views of the director of physical education upon the subject of wholesale cheering during a game are well known.

The day of the big game came and the freshman class turned out en masse to cheer their team on to victory. These demonstrations, however, were limited to between the halves at the suggestion of the powers that be, and now the other classes are wondering just how big a damper this partial ban on cheering will be upon the enthusiastic spirits of the freshmen.

ALUMNA RETURNS; ACTS AS ATHLETIC COACH

Huldah Williams '29, of Richmond, Virginia, returned to Sweet Briar last week as a substitute member of the department of Physical Education. She is taking the place of Mrs. Hunt, who was called away by the sudden illness of her mother.

When questioned, Huldah said that she was delighted to be back at Sweet Briar in her present capacity, and was greatly enjoying the new-found dignity of being addressed as Miss Williams by the freshmen.

Huldah says she likes the work and that it offered many interesting opportunities. She is teaching hockey and lacrosse classes and helping to coach the Varsity and class hockey teams.

$2,000 IN ECONOMIC PRIZES IS OFFERED FOR ESSAYS

Nation-Wide Contest Open To Graduates And To College Students

A total of $2,000 in prizes, which will be awarded to the winners of first and second places in two classes of contestants, are being offered through the generosity of Hart Schaffner and Marx of Chicago for the best topics relating to the study of economics.

The purpose of the contest is to "arouse an interest in the study of topics relating to commerce and industry, to stimulate those who have a college training to consider the problems of a business career, and to aid in constructive economic thinking," according to the bulletin which the committee in charge of the contest has published.

The committee is composed of Professors J. Laurence Laughlin of the University of Chicago, J. B. Clark and Wesley C. Mitchell of Columbia University, Edwin F. Gay, Harvard University, and Hon. Theodore E. Burton, Washington.

The contestants are to be divided into class A and class B. Class A includes any residents of the United States or Canada, without restriction. Class B includes only those who, at the time the papers are submitted, are undergraduates of any American college. The first prize in class A is $1,000 with $500 for second place. The winner of class B is to receive $300 and second prize is $200.

The committee reserves the right to award the two prizes of class A to winners in class B if the merits of the papers demand it. Contestants are allowed to choose their own subjects, although a list of topics is suggested by the committee.

All papers in class A should be sent on or before June 1, 1930, and those of class B before July 1, to J. Laurence Laughlin, University of Chicago.

If any Sweet Briar students are interested in this announcement, further information on the subject may be obtained by reading the notice on the bulletin board at the head of the stairs on first floor Fletcher.

"Red" Is Newcomer At Sweet Briar House

On her return to Sweet Briar this fall after a summer spent abroad, Miss Glass found "Red," an Irish terrier, to be the newest resident of Sweet Briar house. He was the gift of Mr. Blackwell and started his education this fall with the new students. It is hoped that by the time the students will be taking the six weeks quizes, he will have learned his lesson too, that is, that there is one chair and only one on which he may sleep.

President Glass Enjoys Summer Vacation Abroad

President Glass spent July and August of the past summer touring parts of the British Isles and the continent. After sailing from New York, she landed at Cobh, Ireland, and made her approach to London by way of North Wales, Chester, Warwick and Stratford.

With London as a starting point, Miss Glass spent several days motoring through the surrounding country, visiting Cambridge and other points of interest.

She flew from London to Ostend, Belgium, and with Paris as her headquarters for a month, she made automobile trips which took her over much of the territory she had covered in 1918 while she was in war service with the National Board of the Y. W. C. A.

Miss Glass attended a meeting of the International Federation of University Women at Geneva on August 14 and 15, and while in Switzerland she visited Lucerne. She returned to the United States by way of the British Isles, sailing from Southampton, September 7.

Hit the Borwood Inn

Of unusual interest was the accommodation of 112 guests on Sunday evening, October 13, between the hours of 5:30 and 7:30 for "waffles" at the Boxwood Inn.

Among the guests at the Boxwood Inn this week were Mr. William E. Smith, of Duluth, Minn., who was visiting his daughter, Adelaide; Virginia Squibb's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George L. P. Squibb of Lynchburg, Ind.; Mrs. Tom Wallace of Prospect, Ky., guest of her daughter, Augusta; Mrs. S. A. Bailey, and Miss Edith Marshall of Versailles, Ky., visiting Edith Bailey; Mrs. D. W. Cole of New York City, guest of her daughter, Jean, and Dean Dutton; and Ellen Doty's mother, of New York City.

Little Sisters Come to Sweet Briar

Ever since college opened, one's chief occupation has been looking up little sisters. So far there seem to be eleven—Haller (Gubelman), Julia Wilson, Elizabeth Lankford, Mary Gochbauer, Anne Gochbauer, Joe Klutis, Willie Woodward, Sue Brooke, Alwyn Redmond, Nat Roberts, Mary Nice, and Elizabeth West all have little sisters. Besides these, Charlotte Brown—Flo's sister—has come back as a junior. Everywhere you hear people talking of their excellent intentions of taking some of them to the Tea House or to Amherst. At Rhesa's seniors call up freshmen and haughtily demand their names, then relating say, "Are you Julia's little sister, or Joe's, or Willie's," as the case may be. Little sister—and half the time the little sister is a good bit taller than you are! "Mary Burnley Lankford, for example. And we are all wondering whether they will be like their sisters—in the same activities—or not. Will there be another Woodward riding horseback, another Klutis in the May Court, another Gubelman coming to the fore when Paint and Patches wants clever scenery arranged? Will Mary Gochbauer's sister be at the Honor Banquet this year, or will Nat Roberts' sister be a riding leader? We are waiting to see, and meanwhile we are glad to see these younger ones, and welcome them here at Sweet Briar.

And, incidentally, we are wondering if there is any truth in the rumor that next year the first Sweet Briar daughter is coming to carry on the college traditions.

FALL SESSION OPENS, ETC.

After research work done in the British Museum, which was followed by a tour through Europe with several Sweet Briar students and other girls, Dr. Dora Neill Raymond has returned to her work as professor in the history department.

Miss M. Dee Long, professor of English, is back after a year spent at Columbia University doing graduate work. Miss Gladys Dickason, instructor in Economics and Sociology, is on-campus again after spending last winter studying at Columbia.

Miss Harriet Merriek, graduate of Mt. Holyoke in the class of 1929, has taken the place of Miss Harriet Eastlie as secretary to Dean Dutton. Miss Merriek was much interested in journalism while at college and served on the staff of the newspaper at Mt. Holyoke.
